

Planting A Garden To

Discourage Deer

During a difficult winter, hungry deer will eat just about any vegetation. There is no such thing as a deer-proof plant. You may minimize damage, however, by growing plants least favored by deer, and by avoiding such deer favorites as azalea, rhododendron, yew, rose, daylily, pansy, hosta, tulip and phlox paniculata. The following is a list of plants which are considered to be "deer-resistant".
